Dear Clint:

I know that I had a chance to thank you by email but I wanted to also send you a formal thank you letter for your help with our Asheville location. The approach by you and Cheryl worked to build excitement and energy around an important business objective.

The efforts by you and Cheryl really gave us some significant new tools in our tool box to focus on retention of those new hires as well as recruitment strategies. The accountability you created to weekly goals was really helpful to create focus and ultimately results.

Thanks again and while I hope not to have you on speed dial I certainly value your organization as a tool in our toolbox.

Take care!
